

EMERGENCY OPERATING PLAN STATEMENT

In the event South Florida is affected by a tropical storm or hurricane warning, Jack Scalisi Wholesale will implement their EMERGENCY OPERATING PLAN.

Once the tropical storm or hurricane warning has been issued, our team members will gather a standard produce order from our nursing care or assisted living facilities. We will also accommodate any facility acting as a storm shelter such as churches, schools, centers or clubs.

As the storm approaches, conditions deteriorate and sustained winds reach 35 miles per hour or higher, all deliveries will cease. The warehouse will continue to operate under full generator natural gas power to assure our product stays refrigerated and consumable.

Once the storm passes and we can safely resume deliveries, we are obligated to make priority deliveries for standing orders to those listed above. We will begin resuming normal operations as quickly as possible to our remaining customers.

Depending on the accessibility of cell phone communications or internet, our main telephone number will be working. Also listed below are emergency contact numbers for our team:
